

#1 Side – Protagonists (general)

“It is told in the form of a rhyme –

Wrong will be right when Aslan come in sight

At the sound of his roar, sorrows will be no more.

When he bears his teeth, winter will meet its death.

And when he shakes his mane, we shall have spring again.”

#2 Side –Antagonists (general)

“Well – (mockingly) – so the great Aslan has returned. My Queen will be interested in this news. But before I go, would the ‘mighty one’ like to test my strength? Are you so afraid of Fenris Ulf that you designate a mere mortal to fight in your stead? Well, I shall make short work of him – just as my Queen’s army will dispatch you and your cowardly crew in the wink of an eye.

Siblings

Susan: It doesn’t seem safe here. What about just going home?

Lucy: But we must try and rescue Mr. Tumnus. It’s my fault he’s in trouble.

Peter: I suppose Lu is right.

Susan: Very well. But this place worries me.

Peter. Where should we look first?

Edmund: I think we should look for something to eat.

Peter. Oh, you’re always thinking about your stomach.

Edmund: And you’re always thinking about your clothes and your hair and how you look.
